

ACI (Acta Cardiologia Indonesiana) (Vol.4, No.1(S)), 2018 [supplement]: Siii

List of Speakers*Tetsuya HaraAssistant ProfessorKobe University Graduate School on Medicine, Kobe, Japan*

Dr. Tetsuya Hara was graduated as Medical Doctor from Kobe University School of Medicine in 2002. He pursued his research career by completing his Doctoral research in the field of Experimental Cardiology from Kobe University Graduate School of Medicine, Japan in 2009. He continued by several periods of postdoctoral training in the field of Vascular Biology/thrombosis in Kobe University Graduate School of Medicine and molecular imaging of atherothrombosis in Massachusetts General Hospital, Harvard Medical School in U.S.A. During his postdoctoral training, he received American Heart Association Founders AHA Postdoctoral Fellowship. In 2015, he was awarded Cardiovascular Imaging Award in Annual Congress of Japanese Circulation Society, Japan. Currently he is an Assistant Professor in Kobe University Graduate School of Medicine, Japan. He has been publishing papers related to vascular biology and molecular imaging.

Bambang IrawanProfessor (ret)Department of Cardiology and Vascular MedicineFaculty of Medicine, Public Health and Nursing Universitas Gadjah Mada, Jogjakarta, Indonesia*

Professor Bambang Irawan obtained his Medical Doctor Degree from Faculty of Medicine Universitas Gadjah Mada in 1971. He graduated Internist at the same university in 1981. He was awarded Consultant of Cardiovascular Medicine from Indonesian Association of Internal Medicine in 1996. His Cardiologist residency at National Cardiovascular Center Harapan Kita, Jakarta, Indonesia was accomplished in 2004 and Consultant of Clinical Cardiology was conferred in 2005. Since 2007, he was Professor in Cardiology and Vascular Medicine in Universitas Gadjah Mada. He was the first Head of Department of Cardiology and Vascular Medicine, Faculty of Medicine, Universitas Gadjah Mada (2004-2009). His area of interests are clinical cardiology, arrhythmias and cardiac rehabilitation. Currently, he is active in teaching and mentoring young cardiologists.

Aaron Wong Sung LungAdjunct Associate ProfessorSing-Health Duke-NUS Graduate Medical School, Department of Cardiology National Heart Centre Singapore*

Adj. Assoc. Prof. Aaron Wong Sung Lung was graduated with his Bachelor of Medicine and Surgery from the University of Melbourne in 1991. He was trained as registrar in Cardiology at the National Heart Centre in Singapore from 1997-2000, associate consultant in interventional cardiology in 2001 at the same hospital and was a research fellow in interventional cardiologist at Brigham and Women's Hospital, Harvard Medical School Boston in 2002. Currently he is a senior consultant and director in interventional cardiology National Heart Centre Singapore, head of Department of Cardiology, National Heart Centre Singapore and Adjunct Associate Professor in Sing-Health Duke-NUS Graduate Medical School Singapore. His has published papers and book chapters related to acute coronary syndromes and interventional cardiology.

Nahar TaufiqSenior Lecturer, Consultant CardiologistDepartment of Cardiology and Vascular Medicine, Faculty of Medicine, Public Health and Nursing Universitas Gadjah Mada - Dr. Sardjito Hospital Yogyakarta, Indonesia*

Dr. Nahar Taufiq received his Medical Doctor from Faculty of Medicine Universitas Negeri Sebelas Maret, Surakarta, Indonesia in 1992. He completed his Cardiologist residency at National Cardiovascular Center Harapan Kita/Universitas Indonesia, Jakarta, Indonesia in 2003. He continued his training on invasive diagnostic and non-surgery intervention in National Cardiovascular Center Harapan Kita, Jakarta in 2015. He attended Interventional Cardiology Fellow in NUH, Singapore in 2007-2008. He was conferred Consultant of Interventional Cardiology from Indonesian Heart Association in 2009. Currently he is lecturer and Consultant of Interventional Cardiology at Department of Cardiology and Vascular Medicine, Universitas Gadjah Mada, Jogjakarta. He is also Head of Cardiac Service in Dr. Sardjito Hospital, Jogjakarta, Indonesia. He is currently active in developing and investigating the new coronary stent as part of his research interest.

Dafsah Arifa Juzar

Senior Lecturer, Consultant Cardiologist

Department of Cardiology and Vascular Medicine, Faculty of Medicine, Universitas Indonesia National Cardiovascular Center Harapan Kita, Jakarta, Indonesia

Dr. Dafsah Arifa Juzar received his Medical Doctor from Faculty of Medicine UNIKA Atmadjaya, Indonesia in 2000. He completed his Cardiologist residency at National Cardiovascular Center Harapan Kita/Universitas Indonesia, Jakarta, Indonesia in 2007. He was conferred Consultant of Acute, Intensive, and Cardiovascular Emergency in 2013 from Indonesian Heart Association. Currently he is senior lecturer and Cardiologist Consultant at Department of Cardiology and Vascular Medicine, Universitas Indonesia. He is Head of Staff, Intensive Cardiovascular Care & Emergency Unit National Cardiovascular Center Harapan Kita, Jakarta. He is actively conducting research in the area of intensive and acute cardiovascular medicine. He is currently involving in developing Indonesia STEMI network (iSTEMI) which aim to improve STEMI care in Indonesia.

Supriyanto Dharmoredjo

Director

Dr. Iskak District Hospital, Tulungagung, East Java, Indonesia

Dr. Supriyanto Dharmoredjo is the director of Dr. Iskak District Hospital in Tulungagung Regency, East Java, Indonesia. Prior to his current position, he was medical doctor in Siulak Gedang, Jambi (1993-1995) and assistant surgeon in Dr. Iskak District Hospital (1995-1998). After completing his residency in General Surgery, he worked in Dr. Iskak District Hospital until currently. From 2014, he was appointed as Director of Dr. Iskak Hospital. Under his term of directorship, Dr. Iskak Hospital receives 17 national and international awards. The most prominent is the best public service award from U.N in 2018. The innovation of Tulungagung Emergency Medical Service (TEMS) dan Layanan Sindroma Koroner Akut (LASKAR) are widely appreciated and become national pilot for other district hospitals in Indonesia.

Shaiful Azmi bin Yahaya

Consultant Cardiologist

Deputy Head of Cardiology Department, Institut Jantung Negara, Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia

Dr. Shaiful Azmi bin Yahaya received his Medical Degree and Masters in Medicine (Internal Medicine) from UKM, Malaysia in 1991 and 2001. He continued his post degree training on noninvasive peripheral vascular at the Texas Heart Institute, Houston, U.S.A, in 2005. He is currently a Consultant Cardiologist and Deputy Head of Cardiology Department at Institut Jantung Negara, Malaysia. He is the Clinical Director of Interventional Cardiology. Prior to this, Dr. Shaiful served as a lecturer in Medicine and Cardiology at the Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia (UKM) Medicine Faculty (2001 – 2004). Dr. Shaiful has performed cardiac procedures including echocardiograms, carotid and lower limb invasive studies, interventional coronary and heart catheterisation, peripheral arterial, venous and aortic intervention. He has almost 7 years of experience in cardiology research and clinical trial. He contributes significantly to clinical trials and has published several research papers on peripheral intervention.

Budi Yuli Setianto

Professor

Department of Cardiology and Vascular Medicine, Faculty of Medicine, Public Health and Nursing Universitas Gadjah Mada - Dr. Sardjito Hospital, Jogjakarta, Indonesia

Professor Budi Yuli Setianto obtained Medical Doctor from Faculty of Medicine Universitas Gadjah Mada in 1982. He graduated as Internist at the same university in 1995 and completed Cardiologist residency at National Cardiovascular Center Harapan Kita/Universitas Indonesia, Jakarta, Indonesia in 1999. He was awarded Consultant of Cardiovascular Medicine from Indonesian Association of Internal Medicine in 2000. He was conferred Consultant of Interventional Cardiology from Indonesian Heart Association in 2004, and Consultant of Acute, Intensive, and Cardiovascular Emergency in 2016. He obtained Doctoral Degree at Universitas Gadjah Mada, Indonesia in 2012. From 2017, he is Professor in Cardiology and Vascular Medicine in Universitas Gadjah Mada. Currently, he is Head of Department of Cardiology and Vascular Medicine in Faculty of Medicine, Public Health and Nursing, Universitas Gadjah Mada. He has been conducting research and publishes many scientific articles and books in cardiology.